Frightful Case of a Colored Man.

I contracted a fearful case of blood poisoning in 1883. I was treated by some of the best physicians in Atlanta, Ga. They used the remedies of Mercury and Potash, which brought on violent eruptions and involved my digestive organs. Every food in my way was vomited and full of pain. When I was given up to die, my physicians thought it would be a good thing to try the cure of Dr. Hale's Catarrh. When I commenced taking it, I was so much relieved that I could not sleep two weeks under the old treatment. I continued to take it until I was cured. I have since taken it for a number of years, and it has been a great help to me. I have never been troubled with the disease again. I have been able to do my work and live in comfort. I have been able to do my work and live in comfort. I have been able to do my work and live in comfort.

LEWIS McCLENDON.

Dr. Hale's Catarrh has been in the employ of the United States Government for many years. I know the above statements to be true. At the time he began taking Dr. Hale's Catarrh, he was in a horrible condition. I heard his cure almost immediately.

OLD GEORGIA PENSIONERS.

A MILLION-ACRE INVESTMENT IN THE WEST.

SPECIAL LETTER DELIVERY.

A Service by which the Government Cannot Lose.

Of the one hundred millions of dollars which the United States Government distributes every year to its pensioners, a considerable amount is expended in the form of special letter delivery.

There is a good long list of disabled federal soldiers who reside in and around Atlanta, and draw their monthly reward from the national treasury.

Many of these pensioners are old and feeble, and it is not surprising that they should be unable to do their own work.

INVESTMENT.

"Elder"

Walter Hartman's tone of sorrowful amazement made his young wife spring hastily to her feet. She had not heard him come in, and was kneeling beside

a great arm-chair, sobbing as if her heart would break.

"Oh, Walter!" she said, "Aunt Julia—"

and a fresh burst of sobs interrupted her.

Walter's face cleared, and he was not sorrow of her own, then, that overwhelmed this pretty blue-eyed darling

he had married six months before.

"Well, dear," he said, taking her in his arms and caressing her, "what about this? Don't think, my dear, you will make yourself ill."

"The fire," said Elsie, keeping her sobs somewhat more under control.

"You know I was very much worried

when I heard that the house was to be sold, and I was wondering whether Aunt

Julia's house was in the burnt district or not."

For the great Chicago fire was not a week old, and the whole country

was in a state of excitement.

"Well, dear," said Walter, kindly,

"it is as bad as it can be. Walter,

Aunt Julia writes to me that her house

was totally destroyed, her very clothes

burned up, and she is now in a hospital, and she is very ill. She is absolutely without anything in the world except the clothes she had on.

Actually, I don't know what to do."

Here the sobs came again, and Walter

and Walter could offer no comfort,

but such was conveyed by silent cassess. After a time these sobs were so frequent that Elsie could speak more clearly.

"Now, little one," said Walter, "tell me why this troubles you so acutely?

Do you love your aunt so dearly?"

"She has been everything to me, and I could not live without her. I loved her very dearly, and she was my only friend. I loved her very dearly, and she was my only friend. I loved her very dearly, and she was my only
